Take pleasure in announcing to their many patrons, and the

Mens', Youths' and Boys' Clothing Department

The distinguishing feature of our really grand display of Ready-made Garments for Mens', Youths' and Boys' Wear, consists in the fact that the material used is of the very best the looms of Foreign and Domestic Manufacturers can bring forth. Linings and Trimmings being first-class, correspond in texture, as well as fabric, with the material of the garment. As to the cut and fit, the garments are indeed an eminent success, and elicit highly flattering criticisms from all sides. Through untiring efforts we have ucceeded in securing an assortment of CHILDREN'S SUITS and OVERCOATS which will meet the appreciation of our patrons, being, in all respects, the most complete and most choice as-

Notwithstanding the many di scouragements attendant upon the inauguration of the Fair which has just closed which closed last night has resulted very differently from these predictions, and it is a source of much gratification to the managers and all our citizens that the outcome has been so favorable, and the way is now opened for such expositions yearly, without a doubt as to their success. The artidoubt as to their success. The arti-Fairs, but never have they been exceeded in merit. The attendance both at the Pavilion and Park has been all that could have been desired, and the receipts are such that perhaps a thousand dellars will be left to the society to operate with another season. The general verdict is that the Fair has

AN OLD MYTH RENEWED.

When Hercules wanted to secure the golden apples of Hesperides, he prevailed upon Atlas to go and gather the precious fruit for him, meantime heavens which it was the task of Atlas begged him to relieve him of the great burden until he should arrange a pad for his head. Suspecting no guile, Atlas complied with the request. But of the ballots will be on. Republithe apples and made his way to his the ammunition train in position.

Adopted citizens, the Irish and Germans especially, and the workingmen, can be aptly likened to Atlas, and the Terry-Stoneman-Farley Democracy to the crafty Hercules. The golden apples are the great offices, and the patronage and spoils. They are the Irish and Germans and workingmen who sustain the heavens of the political office and spoil hunters. Upon their strong shoulders the future of the party rests. Promising to re- night), has addressed the following lieve them of the load, the crafty hunters leave them to go and secure the sive letter to the edtor of the San José rich prizes. We desire to say to the strangers and invalids who are coming among us that the benefit to be derived from our climate is not to be reaped by those who live in-doors a good part of the time. It is the out-door air and freshness, this standing face to fact with the sunshine, basking in its golden flood, that brings back to the invalid strength and vitality. Shutting one's self up here, and hoping for health to come, is like a traveler, dying of thirst, trusting to quench it by looking at water which his lips cannot reach. Our advice to the invalid is, live out of doors.

Attorney-General Hart, the man who knows how to scalp a Democratic slanderer, will speak at the Republican meeting on Monday evening next.

Give him a big hearing!

THERE is safety and security in no great party only so long as it has a majority of intelligent voters. Never before in the history of our commonwealth have the thoughtful intelligent and patriotic allies of the Republican party been compelled to face such an army of demoralizing ballots as will meet them at the coming contest at the polls. In California is incorporated with the Democratic party an ignorant, discontentd, rash, unthinking, Sabbath-hating element which is striving for the mastery, and every lover of law and order, every friend of the Sabbath, every believer in "a government for the people and of the people," should be on his guard, and should not suffer himself to be led to support any man faction or party cessities of the case demand; but, Mr.

which I offer as proof of the fact therein stated, that the trout will ascend a vertical stream of water. Not only the trout but many other fish do the same. When a boy I have stood many a time and watched the fish go up a waterfall that came over a milldam nearly perpendicular, five feet. Their success was about in proportion to that of a human family to climb the ladder of fame and fortune. I had a position I used to get into where at a certain time when the sun shone on the waterfall, I could observe their success and failure. While one would start in and make the riffle, a dozen would fall back. Some would start out with great force and shoot out into the fair. Some, after they had reached still water, their assurance of success put them off their guard, and back they would go. Others would come up with all the well-directed force and stand midway, just able to hold their own. These were victims of my well directed spear, which scarcely ever failed to bring them out, as they would often be near the surface, and a little calculation as to the force of the water would make sure of them. Many of the human family, in their pursuit of wealth and fame, come to a perpendicular waterfall, and their success is about as vain as that of the fish I used to watch. That is all the modern ovements the towheaded youth's gun has ever had.
